FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS from each division of DOAG

AGRICULTURE DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

NURSERY

Q1. What are the hours of operation?

Unfortunately, we are currently working with restricted hours and not open to the public. We are growing seedlings in partnership with local non-profit organizations to distribute to residents in need during the COVID-19 public health emergency. When seedlings are ready, we will offer them to the community as well.

Q2. What is the number for the Plant Nursery?

The number for the Plant Nursery is 300-7974. However, our nursery personnel are likely in the work area propagating seeds, tending to sprouts, or performing other tasks. If you require more immediate assistance, please call 300-7973. You may also email agriculture@doag.guam.gov.

Q3. What types of plants are available and how much?

The Plant Nursery has several vegetables and fruit trees for sale at a nominal fee.

- Fruit trees are $3.00 each.
- Vegetable seedlings are $10.00 per tray of 100 seedlings or $3.00 per dozen

Common types of vegetable seedlings are eggplants, tomato, hot peppers and occasional herbs such as lemon grass and basil.

Common types of fruit trees are lemon citrus, kalamansi, soursop, sweetsop, mango, avocado and papaya

Grafted or air-layered fruit trees are priced normally at $25.00 per plant.

All plants are subject to availability. No reservations and personal orders.

In the next year, the nursery will be increasing our varieties of both fruit trees and vegetables. We are looking forward to offering more to our community!

ANIMAL CONTROL/ANIMAL HEALTH

Q1. What are hours of operation?

We are open Monday through Friday from 4pm to 5pm.
Currently, our Animal Control Officers are responding to emergency calls, only cases of animal cruelty, animal attacks, and animal rescue will be entertained.

Q2. How do I contact someone regarding an animal import/export permit?

Please email quarantine@doag.guam.gov with your questions.

Q3. What are the requirements to bring a pet to Guam?

The Animal Quarantine brochure is available on our website doag.guam.gov.

Q4. Where can I turn in my pet?

Guam Animals In Need has been allowed to reopen and accept animals beginning May 11, 2020.

Q5. Where do I get my health certificate signed?

The veterinarian of your choice signs the health certificate initially. The certificate must then be endorsed by the Territorial Veterinarian at the David Limtiaco building at the Department of Agriculture offices in Mangilao at the hours indicated above.

Q6. How much does it cost to get my health certificate signed?

The Department of Agriculture still does not charge for signing health certificates.

Q7. What time can I get my health certificate signed?

The territorial veterinarian will be at the Department of Agriculture from 4 p.m.- 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Q8. What documents do I need to bring?

Health certificate and current rabies vaccination certificate.

Q9. How long is the health certificate good for?

Health Certificates are valid for ten days.

BIOSECURITY DIVISION

Q1. Is the Guam/USDA Plant Inspection Facility open to the public for the provision of commodity Import Permits, or export inspections and certificates such as Certificates of Origin and Phytosanitary Certificates?

Yes, the inspection facility office is open Monday through Friday 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. except on Government of Guam holidays. It is located at 17-3306 Neptune Avenue, Tiyan, Barrigada, Guam. Public entry area is at the front of the building; you may not enter if exhibiting symptoms consistent with COVID-19 infection. You must be wearing a mask. You must have exact change for your purchase.

Q2. How do I request an Import Permit or make an appointment to have an export commodity inspected and receive the appropriate export certificate?

Call 475-1427 or 475-7378 (PEST) between 8 AM and 12 noon. Import Permit requests may also be faxed to 477-9487 or emailed in to biosecurity@doag.guam.gov.

Q3. Is there a waiting period for these services?

Yes. Import Permits require a four (4) hour advance request to allow time for the preparation of the document. Requests are queued and prepared first in, first out. Export inspections should be scheduled at least a day in advance if possible; and certainly, in plenty of time before the scheduled departure flight of the commodity.

Q4. How long are Guam Department of Agriculture Import Permits honored?

Import Permits are good for thirty (30) days from date of issuance, cost $10.00/shipment for fruits and vegetables, and can only be used for one shipment.

Q5. What is an Import Permit needed for?

Import Permits are required for the importer to clear their shipments through the Customs and Quarantine Agency's agriculture inspection at the ports of entry. They are needed for commercial shipments (shipments for resale) of fruits, vegetables, fresh eggs, balut or salted eggs, or any shipments of propagative materials (seeds, seedlings, live plants, etc.) or certain other risk items such as live insects, sand or quarried products. An individual importing fifty (50) pounds or less of each fruit and vegetable commodity is granted an exemption for personal use, and does not need to get an Import Permit.

Q6. What is a Certificate of Origin?

Certificates of Origin cost $5.00 and are generally issued for a Guam resident to use when taking or sending meat from Guam to other parts of the United States. It helps to clear passage of the meat through USDA or other state inspection points because it certifies the origin of the meat. Guam is free of animal diseases that could be the cause of disallowing the movements of such meats if they originated in Asian countries.

Q7. What is a Phytosanitary Certificate?

Phytosanitary Certificates are required by importing countries or jurisdictions for agricultural commodities such as fruits, vegetables, live plants, seeds, etc. They are only issued after successful inspection and certification by a Government of Guam or USDA inspector that the commodity is apparently free of injurious insects or other plant pests that could be detrimental to agriculture in the receiving country or state. These inspections and certificates cost $23.00 and are good for one shipment.

Q8. How do I know if I can import something?

Call the phone numbers listed above and ask for a Commodity Inspector to assist you, or send your inquiry to biosecurity@doag.guam.gov. We will need to know what exactly you are proposing to import, from where and in what quantity. Many things are prohibited from certain countries or areas due to the risk of the import of pests that may be associated with the items. USDA regulations govern foreign imports and Government of Guam regulations govern domestic imports. Most foreign imports require USDA permits and other requirements. You may web search “USDA-APHIS-PPQ” for more information on their extensive websites about what and how they regulate agricultural product imports.

DIVISION OF AQUATIC AND WILDLIFE RESOURCES (DAWR)

Q1. What are hours of operation?

DAWR's offices are currently not open to the public. Personnel continue to work from home or in the office, if needed. We will open our offices as soon as we are able to install safety equipment to protect our personnel and the public.

Q2. How do I reach DAWR personnel if the office is not open?

You may email fisheries@doag.guam.gov or wildlife@doag.guam.gov depending on what you need.

If you require assistance with a land-based permit under DAWR review, you may email Jeffrey.quitugua@doag.guam.gov or call 735-0279.

If you require assistance with an aquatic-based permit under DAWR review, you may email Jay.Gutierrez@doag.guam.gov.

Q3. Are the Marine Protected Areas open for the public to harvest.

No. By Guam law the MPA were established and remain closed, even during the crisis, unless specified by a permit issued by the director of agriculture.

During the seasonal run for manahak, ie, tiao, the Department will issue appropriate press releases.

Q4. If I find an injured migratory bird or any wild bird, will DAWR accept these animals.

No. The public is advised not to pick up injured wild birds.

Q5. Are bird & fish posters, hunting brochures, and/or tide charts available?

Yes. We are working to upload these items to our website at doag.guam.gov. Unfortunately, the public will have to wait until our office is safe for personnel and customers to interact before we are able to physically distribute these items.

Q6. Am I able to purchase a hunting license or deer tags?

Hunting licenses and deer tags will not be available until our office is safe for personnel and customers to interact. Hunters are advised to keep their current license. During this public health emergency we have extended the hunting season and temporarily suspended the requirement for deer tags. All hunters who use a firearm, must have a valid firearms ID-identification.
